

Let the Battle of the Books Begin

submitted by Presentation of Mary Academy, Hudson

Presentation of Mary Academy has started its annual Battle of the Books program. Battle of the Books is a reading incentive program designed to encourage students to read quality literature. It was started in the 1930s as a radio program. Today, this program is used at an individual school level as well as at district levels. Specialists and teachers from around the country spend many hours choosing the books each year. The program continues to grow annually as students eagerly show up weekly to discuss chosen books. This year, PMA has over 40 students in the program.
